Introduction

In this entertaining animals board game, students practice writing, asking and answering animal quiz questions.

Procedure

Tell the students that they are going to play a quiz game about animals, but first, they need to create some quiz questions of their own to include in the game.

Divide the class into groups of three. Give each group ten blank quiz question cards.

Working together with the people in their group, students create ten animal quiz questions (with answers) and write them on the cards.

As the students are writing, go around helping as necessary.

When the students have finished, ask them to give their quiz questions to another group.

Next, give each group a copy of the game board, a set of quiz question cards, counters and a dice.

Ask the students to shuffle all the quiz question cards together and place them face-down in a pile on the game board.

The student on the right of the first player picks up a quiz question card from the pile and asks the player the question on the card.

If the player answers the question correctly, they roll the dice and move their counter along the board accordingly.

If the player gives a wrong answer, they do not move, and the correct answer isn't revealed.

The student asking the question then puts the quiz question card back at the bottom of the pile, and the process is repeated with the next player and so on.

The first player to reach the finish wins the game.
