Introduction

This countable or uncountable nouns game helps to teach students the difference between these two types of noun. The game also helps students associate quantifiers and question words with each type of noun.

Procedure

Tell the students that they are going to sort countable and uncountable nouns into their respective groups.

Divide the students into pairs.

Give each pair the two heading cards and a set of noun cards. Tell the students to place the heading cards face up on the table and to shuffle the noun cards and place them face down in a pile.

Students take it in turns to turn over a noun card and place it under the correct heading.

As the students are doing the activity, write the following question words and quantifiers on the board:

How much? How many? a little a few some any a lot of

When the students have finished, elicit the correct category for each noun.

For each correctly matched noun, pairs score one point.

Pairs then race to score an extra point by making a meaningful sentence or question with the noun using a question word or quantifier from the board.

The first pair to do this scores an extra point.

Point out that singular countable nouns can be changed to plural countable nouns for the sentences and questions.

The pair with the most points at the end of the game wins.
