Introduction

Here is an adverbs of frequency board game to help students practice asking How often do you...? questions and giving answers with adverbs and expressions of frequency.

Procedure

Divide the students into groups of three or four.

Give each group a copy of the game board, a dice and counters.

Players place their counters on the start square.

Players take it in turns to roll the dice and move their counter along the board.

When a player lands on a square, the student to their right asks them the How often do you...? question on the square.

The player then answers the question by making a true sentence with an adverb or expression of frequency.

If a player can't think of anything to say or makes a grammar mistake, they go back two squares.

The first player to reach the finish wins the game.
